EXPLORING Sacred Paths

wisdom, insight and inspiration for personal renewal

a self-guided spiritual retreat with original paintings by Sally K. Green

Join us for Sally K. Green's "Exploring Sacred Paths"; a unique, self-guided Spiritual Retreat. In her return visit to the Mercy Center Art Gallery, Sally brings a new collection of original paintings and a thought-provoking process for gathering WISDOM to keep. Again, you are invited to walk worn paths to uncover INSIGHT from fellow travelers and spiritual leaders across time.

This self-guided Spiritual Retreat includes three distinctive art exhibits, beginning in January 2018 and concluding the end of April. See below for dates. Each experience invites you to take a sacred journey, stopping to learn something from the story, wisdom, and insight of those you encounter. In the process, you will have an opportunity to think and question from your own perspective, while looking for INSPIRATION to fuel a bold step forward in renewing yourself. Come often to take it in at your own pace or make your own plan. Open daily. Everyone is welcome. Groups by appointment.
